

RECOIL XT

The ikan Camera Stabilization System

A Complete Solution for Handheld Shot Stabilization

The ikan Recoil XT is the perfect handheld shooting platform for your HDSLR or prosumer video camera. This firm, molded composite tool has a low-reaching shoulder pad for added stability and an adjustable chest brace for support.

With a newly expanded mounting platform, the Recoil XT's included Rod Mount Adapter and strategically placed receiver slots gives you a variety of accessory mounting options including a small monitor, on camera light, battery adapter or an HDMI converter box.

Perfect For Your Camera

Whether your camera of choice is a Canon 60D, Nikon D3100 or another prosumer camera, you're covered with the Recoil-XT. The included Elements support rig offers a cheese plate for easy compatibility and an extra foam grip for ultimate control and stabilization. Any camera weighing up to 8 pounds even weight distribution and a stable camera platform will keep you shooting for hours on end.
