

PT3100

The ikan 15" Teleprompter

Rise to the Occasion

The ikan PT3100 is a through-the-glass teleprompter that is large enough for studio applications, while still retaining enough portability to be utilized on location. With a 15" LCD, VGA AC-powered monitor, the PT3100 offers a large viewing surface along with the same features of the ikan PT3000. A host of new features can be found on the PT3100, all of which have been implemented to provide more practical solutions for your through-the-glass applications.

Don't hassle with a teleprompter kit that positions your camera off the mark. With the PT3100's provided camera lift and the simple twist of a wheel, you can "lift" your camera into a perfect center position for the best through-the-glass application experience possible.

Free Yourself

If your shoot requires you to switch applications quickly, then the PT3100 has you covered. With the twist of a simple knob and a single push of a button, your camera and the quick release plate are free from the PT3100's secure base, providing you with the ability to be as versatile as your shoot requires.

About Face

The issue of performing an image reversal on your source laptop or desktop PC/Mac is history! With the built in feature on the provided 15" LCD monitor, ikan has solved the puzzle for you. With the push of a button, a perfectly reflected image will appear through the prompter glass just as your talent requires, providing another hassle free solution...from ikan.
